

Help for the Library

There is a fire at the town library! The firefighter comes fast.
He puts out the fire. The people are safe, but the librarian is sad.

"The library is a mess!" she says. "The books are ruined!"

"I can help," says the builder.

"We can all help!" say the people in the town.

On Saturday, they all come to the library. They bring books. They clean up the mess.

The builder comes. He builds new bookshelves.

The painter comes. She paints the bookshelves.

The chef comes. She cooks lunch.

The people are happy to help.

The librarian is happy, too.

"Thank you for your help!" she says.

"The library can open again on Monday!"

Listen and answer the questions

1.

.....

2.

.....

3.

.....

4.

.....