ED or ING

CHOOSE THE RIGHT ADJECTIVE

1. John can't solve this math problem. He feels very frustrated frustrating. Math is just so confusing confused.
2. Today is Monday, and as usual Peter is tired tiring , but not Sarah. She is very excited exciting about today. She had a relaxed relaxing weekend on the beach, and today she is ready to start classes.
3. Mark's car has a flat tire today. He couldn't move it. "Oh, no" He said, "now I can't drive to work." He is very annoyed annoying because he will have have to take the train, and then a bus. Mark really hates public transportation "Oh! God", he says. "This is so annoyed annoying! A flat tire! Why me?, and today!" His wife was listening to his complaints and she told him,"Look at the bright side, dear. You can watch the news, or a Netflix program on your mobile phone on the train. Don't you think that is relaxed relaxing? "Yeaaah!", said Mark. "You are right, honey. Well now I am excited exciting to get on that train".

liveworksheets.com

DRAG THE WORD TO COMPLETE THE SPACES

entertaining	depressed	annoyed	exciting	depressing

Ted: Come on, Pete. Don't get so 1. ..... . I won this time. Maybe next time you will win.

James: Wonderful! Long queues everywhere! This is not my idea of 2. an ..... afternoon? It will take hours before we can get a ride in the roller coaster.

Anna: Oh, Come on, James. Relax! We are going to have a wonderful time. It is your opportunity to leave your 3..... lifestyle.

James: What do you mean?

Anna: You know what I mean, James. You never go out. You are always watching TV. You are big couch potato.

James: I am not.

Anna: Yes, you are. I get 4. ..... whenever I visit you. That is why I wanted to come here with you to this 5. ..... place, and have a different afternoon, but if you want to go home. Go ahead. I will stay and enjoy.

James: OK. OK. I'll give it a try!

liveworksheets.com