

Present Simple, interrogative

To ask questions in the present simple, we use the auxiliary do and the base form of the verb.

Do your sisters work on the farm?

Yes, they do. / No, they don't.

For the third person singular, we use the auxiliary does and the base form of the verb.

Does your brother work there, too?

Yes, he does. / No, he doesn't.

1 Listen and fill in the blanks. 2

1. _____ your dad _____ the cows?

Yes, he does. He milks the cows in the morning and in the evening.

2. _____ you _____ to the park?

No, I don't. But I go to the movies every weekend!

♦ Read the answers and write the questions.

1. Does Katie collect the eggs in the afternoon?

Yes, she does. Katie collects the eggs in the afternoon.

2. _____

No, she doesn't. Lauren doesn't brush horses every day.

3. _____

Yes, they do. Katie and Lauren go to school.

4. _____

No, she doesn't. Katie doesn't play video games after school.

5. _____

Yes, they do. The girls clean their rooms on Saturdays.