My friend Sally (live) in Singapore. She (be) 15 years old. Her birthday is in October. Sally (live) with her parents, siblings and grandmother. She (have) an older brother and two younger sisters. Sally (play) badminton and she (be) in the school team. They (have) a green and gold uniform with white shoes. Sally (like) the uniform but she (hate) the shoes because she (need) to clean them after every game.

The school team (go) to Malaysia and Indonesia twice a year to compete against other schools. They sometimes (lose) but they usually (win), especially against the Indonesian teams.

Her father (say) that losing gives us valuable lessons about life and Sally (agree) with him. However she and her netball friends (love) winning of course, so they (work) hard every week.

Sally's parents (be) teachers at her school. She (think) this is both good and bad. They (make) sure she (do) her homework and (study)hard. They (teach) her sometimes if she (have) a problem with her work.

However, she (feel) a lot of pressure to be a perfect student because everyone (know) her parents
