Exercise 4 : Read the text and drag the symbols on the map.Then, write the temperature.

Today is the fifteenth of June and here's the weather for Great Britain. The sky is blue and the sun is shining in Brighton and Dover. It's a little windy but the temperature is very pleasant: around 22 degrees. However, in the north of England, it's a cloudy day and there will be a storm in the evening. The temperature is warm, around 17 degrees. In Wales, it's raining and the temperature is around 15 degrees. In Newcastle and Scotland, it's an awful weather today: it's freezing, windy and snowing! Temperature is around minus 4 degrees. Be careful and don't forget your pullover!

See you tonight on BBC1 !
