III. Read the passage and answer the following questions.

Nowadays, teenagers suffer from different kinds of pressures; however, a part of them comes from their parents. Particularly, several teenagers are trying their best to meet the expectation of their parents, because they do not want to disappoint their parents. In my opinion, parents should be the ones who make students feel relaxed. If they are frustrated or depressed with their bad grades, please don't get angry with them and let's put yourselves in your children's shoes to understand how much stressful they are.
