

Answer true or false to the following statements.

A patient with a suspected fracture in their foot should be able to walk when they arrive at the hospital.

If a casualty becomes unresponsive, you should call the emergency services.

You should apply pressure to a bone that has broken through the skin in a compound fracture.

You can support a closed fracture above and below the injury.

Intense pain in the injured area is a sign of a fractured bone.