Drag and Drop Exercise

Dear Students

Interspecific interactions arise from the interaction of populations of two different species. They could be beneficial, detrimental or neutral (neither harm nor benefit) to one of the species or both. Assigning a '+' sign for beneficial interaction, '-' sign for detrimental and 0 for neutral interaction. You need to select the terms from the list and place in the table by drag and drop method. Enjoy the game and evaluate your understanding. Happy joyful learning.
