

Science

Ecosystems

Natural Ecosystems

Choose the right option.

Its humidity favors the grow of ferns, mosses, lichens and fungi.			Dry forest
Constant rain during the year, the vegetation includes: orquids and precious wood trees.			Mangrove forest
Vegetation formed by palm and coconut trees, they favour tourism and productivity.			Pinewood forest
This is forest is destroyed by deforestation, is the habitat of the thorn tailed iguana .			Beaches and coasts
Receives little rain during the year and the Hawthorns are abundant.			Tropical rain forest
They have lots of pines, mosses, lichens and oaks, not fertile soil and is home to many wild species.			Cloudy forest