

Match the pictures with the description

The roots absorb the water and other nutrients like minerals and the process is evident in the leaves

Then, plants give out oxygen

Plants breathe in carbon dioxide

First, plants receive sunlight, water and carbon dioxide

Then, it turns into sugar and oxygen

Chloroplast receives water, sunlight and carbon dioxide

Finally, the sugar is used by the plants as their food.