

Love always,
TL

Even though I just arrived, it seems like this is my new home; the train transportation to the city was the best!

I checked into the hotel and sent up my bags.

Once I got off the train, I went to the hotel which is on the beach.

The train transportation was a Brightline from Orlando and got here in less than 2 hours.

Tonight, I am going to meet some friends in South Beach. Got to run. I'll write soon. Bye!

After the hotel check-in, I saw they had a spa, so I got a massage and sunbathed all afternoon.

Hi Sophie!
I just got to Miami today!
