My friends and I enjoy watching movies together when we are all free. I like to do different things in my free time, such as watching movies or playing video games. My favourite activity is painting though; it really makes me feel relaxed.

I don't usually play video games during the week; my mother says I shouldn't. Instead, I do my homework every day and only play video games a few times a week. When I'm not playing video games, I enjoy painting. I used to go to art galleries when I was younger. Now I like to create my own paintings. I like to use colours that make me think of the things I enjoy. For example, I enjoy using orange because I can paint a sunset, along with some other colours, like pink and red. Green makes me think of nature, so I like using that. The one I use, and love the most, is blue. It makes me think of the bright blue sky and the beach.

In school, I was always good at art. I enjoyed it when we did photography in art lessons. My teacher told me I should do it more often to get better. Right now though, I don't have a camera, so I can't take any photographs. However, when I go to university, I think I'll buy myself one. I plan to study graphic design at university. I became interested in it when I watched my favourite movie, Sunset Moon, for the first time. The graphics and special effects were amazing. After that, I read more about it.

If you want to be a graphic designer nowadays, you don't need to be good at drawing or taking pictures as everything is done on a computer. You'll definitely need to have good computer skills though.
