A Wet Weekend

The weather forecast for the weekend was good so we decided to go on a camping trip. We packed our equipment and set off early in the morning. When we arrived we put up our tent and went for a hike up the mountain. The sun was 1) as we started our climb but that soon changed. Halfway up the mountain dark 2) formed overhead and it started to rain. It rained 3) for two hours. When we finally managed to get back to our camp we were soaked to the skin!
