Highfield College Adult Evening Courses

Are you looking to improve your skills in your free time? Perhaps it's time to take up one of our courses and learn something new. Here are some of the courses that will start in September. Remember to sign up early as courses get full very quickly.

Beginners French

If you are planning a holiday to France or just want to improve your basic speaking skills, this is the course for you. Your teacher will give you practical vocabulary that's useful for shopping, in restaurants, when visiting places and in lots of other everyday situations. Sign up soon as this is our most popular course.

Accountancy

This course is ideal for people who run their own business and would like to be able to do their own accounts and tax returns. You'll be using computer software so you will need to bring your own laptop each week. We supply the software for you to download for free.

Lifesaving

If you are already an advanced swimmer, you might be interested in our lifesaving course. The course is demanding and requires at least three hours of self-study per week as well as additional hours in the pool. There is a written and practical exam at the end, with successful candidates getting a qualification and certificate.

20th-century Literature

New for this year, this course will inspire you to explore some of the novels you've never read but would like to. You will look at themes and imagery in books from the 20th century, and discuss the influence these works had on culture in general.

Teaching Drama

Do you already have experience of acting, either amateur or professional? Do you want to set up your own drama or acting group? This could be the perfect course for you. You will learn how to teach acting through practical workshops and exercises.

Read the brochure for adult courses. Are the sentences true (T) or false (F)? Correct the false sentences.

1 The French course is for students who want to have a high level of French.
2 A lot of students usually take the French course.
3 You do not need a computer to take the accountancy course.
4 You will need to study if you do the lifesaving course.
5 The literature course is only about reading.
6 You don't need to have acted before to do the drama course.

Listening section

7.1 Listen to a conversation between the receptionist at Highfield College and and Dan, who wants to take a course. Answer the questions.

1 Which course does Dan want to take?
