

10 endangered animals

Scissors and Glue

1. A large fish that can reach up to 2m in length. It has big lips and a bulge on its forehead that gets bigger as the fish gets older
2. Very similar to chimpanzees, but are usually smaller, with longer legs and darker faces
3. Nocturnal ground-dwelling parrots from New Zealand
4. Fish-eating crocodiles from India. They have long thin snouts with a large bump on the end which resembles a pot known as a Ghara
5. It's known as the Asian unicorn
6. Its body is covered with scales made of keratin
7. Mexican salamander, Mexican walking fish
8. The beautiful golden lion ... lives in Brazil's Atlantic Coastal Forest. Over 85% of this forest has been destroyed, and as a result, this little monkey has become endangered
9. The smallest and the most endangered marine mammal in the world
10. The largest sea turtles and the only ones not to have a solid shell

