

Phrasal Verbs, letter A

asked in	acting up	account for	ask out	add up	agree with arrived at	applying for	abide by	answer back

A - Well, You've arrived at last. Can you _____ your absence?

B - Well, I was _____ a new job, and they _____ me _____ for an interview.

A - Yes, but we have a contract, you have to _____ its rules.

B - I don't _____ you. I can terminate it any time I wish!

A - I wouldn't _____ if I were you. According to the rules of the contract, I'm your boss ...That's how it works.

B - Well, I have _____ a decision that I quit!

A - But, this just doesn't _____ , why?

B - First of all, my computer is always _____ so I can't do my work.....

A - OK, OK ... I know what this is about .... you just want me to _____ you _____ .

I would have done that ages ago...so listen, good luck in your new job.

B - Ehhhh