The Chicken Pox

One day at school Peter isn't feeling very well. He goes to see the nurse.

"Mmm... You've got a temperature." The nurse says. "I will call your parents you must go home". Peter goes home with his parents and rests on the sofa. He has chicken soup for dinner. "I think I have got a cold, Mum." Peter says. "Don't worry Peter. Tomorrow we will go to see the doctor". Mum says. He goes to bed early. He is very tired.

The next morning Peter wakes up and goes to the toilet. He looks at the mirror and... "MUUUUUMMMM I've got polka dots on all my face! Oh no! On all my body, too! Peter says.

Mum arrives to the toilet. "Aha! You have got chicken pox!" Mum says.

"Chicken pox??? I don't see any chicken on my skin...

I have polka dots and they are really itching." Peter says.

They go to see the doctor. "What's the matter?" He asks.

"I think he has got chicken pox" Mum says.

"But I'm not a chicken..." Peter says.

"Chicken pox is an illness caused by a virus. It is very popular when you are young. You get red itching spots". Doctor says. The doctor gives Peter some medicine "You must stay in bed. And the most difficult thing: You mustn't scratch the spots. You will get better in two weeks"

"Ok Doctor. Thank you!"
