Angie, 16

A few months ago, I was just leaving our local shopping centre when I saw a good-looking boy going in. Our eyes met, and he smiled at me. I walked back to the car park, and my mum and I drove to a bookshop in the town centre. While I was looking at some comic books, I saw the same boy. I smiled at him, but this time he ignored me completely and walked out of the shop a moment later. This annoyed me. So, when I saw him again, I went up to him and asked him about his behaviour. It was soon cleared up: the second boy was his twin brother! We had a good laugh about it and decided to meet again. He's been my boyfriend for over two months now.

Marko,

My friend told me this story a few weeks ago. She was coming back home from her piano lesson quite late in the evening when she saw a man she didn't know. He was trying to get in one of the cars parked along the street. The strange thing was that he wasn't hiding the fact. He was talking angrily to himself and he even kicked the car at one point! Anyway, she watched the man from a distance because she was a little afraid of him. She thought about calling the police. But then the man saw her and explained the situation. It was actually his car and his keys were locked inside!

In this story,

- 1 someone thought the situation was a bit scary. ____
- 2 the writer was the only person surprised by the situation. ____
- 3 the situation led to a new relationship. ____
- 4 someone was wearing strange clothes. ____
- 5 someone looked as if they were committing a crime. ____
