Maya and Ruben

The teacher passed out math tests to the class. The tests had grades on them. Ruben and Maya showed their math tests to each other. "We both got A's!" said Ruben. Then the teacher passed out the spelling tests. "I got an A!" said Maya. She handed her paper to Ruben and reached for his. Ruben did not give her his paper. He turned it face down on his desk. He looked down at the floor. He was not smiling. "You will do better next time," said Maya. "I will study spelling with you this week." Ruben looked up and nodded.

1. What do both Maya and Ruben do well?

2. Which child did better on the spelling test?

3. How did Maya and Ruben feel after the spelling tests were passed out? Why?
