

TEST 2

Read the text.

When people think of Australian food they think of barbecues on the beach. It's true that we enjoy those, but there's more to Australian food. Mostly, however, we eat the same food as most people in the world.

I'm Kevin, and I'm Australian. I'm from Melbourne. I start every day with a bowl of yoghurt and a glass of orange juice. The juice gives me the vitamins I need and the yoghurt gives me strong bones. For lunch, I usually have a chicken sandwich, a banana, and a drink of milk. I also drink plenty of water during the day. After school, my friends and I sometimes go to a fast food restaurant for a burger. As well as beef or chicken burgers, we sometimes eat vegetable burgers. I always leave some room for the evening meal at home. My mum and dad cook well. They make meat pies and also sausages (which we call 'snags') with potatoes. They also make delicious Asian food, such as spicy chicken and rice. And yes, sometimes we have barbecues! We're lucky because it's easy for us to get fresh ingredients. There's an organic food market nearby, so we can get our ingredients that are fresh and tasty.

As you can see, I eat all kinds of foods. I always try to eat healthy foods, but just like any other teen, I also enjoy eating junk food once in a while. I also exercise regularly, so I don't think it does me too much harm!
