

Phrasal Verbs-Relationships

break up      bring up      grow apart      put up with      fall out go out      look after      look down on      take after      look up to pick on      fall for      settle down      get along

1. My sister has offered to _____ the children while we go to the cinema this Saturday.

2. Her personality is similar to her father's but in looks she _____ her mother.

3. We were good friends when we were younger but we have _____ over the years and barely see each other anymore.

4. When she saw the bruises on his arms, she went to speak to her son's teacher because she thought that one of the other children was _____ him at school.

5. My father _____ my mother as soon as he met her. They married only 7 months later.

6. Her parents were very busy people when she was a child. It was her grandparents that really _____. She has always been very close to them.

7. They are both in their late 30s and are starting to think about _____ and starting a family.

8. Her children simply adore her. I don't think they _____ anyone else as much as they do their mother.

9. They have been married for 45 years and everybody is shocked that they have _____ . We all thought they were inseparable.

10. They started _____ with each other when they were 15 and have been together ever since.

11. They used to be very close friends but one day they _____ about something and haven't spoken to each other since then.

12. He loves her very much but he can't _____ her shouting at the football on TV anymore and has moved out of the house.

13. I think that when we have our dinner party we should make sure that David and Paula don't sit next to each other. They don't really _____. They nearly always start arguing.

14. John's in-laws _____ him but he doesn't care what they think and neither does his wife.