

Name: Grade:

1. Read the definitions and write the animals they describe

- a) It is heavier than a buffalo
- b) It has got a very long neck, longer than an ostrich
- c) It is a mammal that lives in the forest and eats leaves
- d) It lives in the Himalaya mountains
- e) It's got a red face and it has got long fur

2. Write sentences using the comparative adjectives. Look at the example:

- a) Brian/intelligent/sister
 - Brian is more intelligent than his sister
- b) Blue whale/heavy/elephant
 -
- c) Hippo/dangerous/rhino
 -
- d) Africa/big/Europe
 -
- e) Sahara desert/hot/Himalaya mountains
 -

3. Compare these two cartoon characters. Use the comparative sentences.

4. Read the text and write the answers.

In the next years, many animal species can disappear because of many reasons. One of them is the pollution: Human people drive their cars, work in factories and pour different substances to water. The water and the air have a bad quality, so many animals can die. For example, fishes eat polluted food, the animal food provokes that whales or polar bears eat polluted fishes, so they are endangered because of pollution. Global warming is another problem because the ice gets hotter and it melts, then penguins or polar bears can't live. Hunting and poaching can be a problem in some zones, when humans hunt rhinos, tigers, or snow leopards to take their skin or fur, these animals are in danger of extinction. The last big problem is the loss of habitat, for example giant pandas or snow leopards are losing the forest, so they can't eat those plants.

1. What are the four reasons for animals to be in danger of extinction?

2. What animals are affected by pollution?

3. What's the main problem for giant pandas? Why?

4. What animals are endangered because of hunting and poaching?

5. Write the words in the gaps. Make a dialogye

Right	are	hurry	help	thank	ticket	five	close
-------	-----	-------	------	-------	--------	------	-------

Attendant: "hello, can I _____ you?"

Customer: "Yes, I want a _____ to visit the castle, please"

Att. : "It's 5.60 $ please"

C.: "here you _____, what time does it _____?"

At. : "It closes at half past _____"

C.: "Allright, let's _____"

At.: "The entrance is on the _____, have a nice day"

C. : " _____ you , have a nice day too"