

The Verb Gustar

Even though this very common, highly used verb ends in - ar, this verb follows its own rules! It is very simple to use as it only has two forms: either gusta or gustan

To express likes and dislikes, you would say either

Me gusta..... Or No me gusta.....
Me gusta el chocolate. No me gusta el café.

If the thing you like or don't like is plural, like sports or news, you would say...

Me gustan los deportes. No me gustan las noticias.

I like music = Me _____ la música.

I like the arts = Me _____ las artes.

I like Spanish and Biology class: Me _____ las clases de español y biología.

I don't like the program. ____ me _____ el programa.

If the thing you like/don't like is a verb, then use gusta.

I like to travel = Me _____ viajar.

I like to speak Spanish. Me _____ hablar español.

I don't like to draw. No me _____ dibujar.

To ask a classmate what they like, use the verb gustar the same way...only two forms but change the pronoun to "te"

¿Te gusta el español? ¿Te gustan los deportes?

Let's try a few.

I like animals (animales) _____

I don't like pizza. _____

I like Science. _____

I don't like to study. _____

Do you like to swim? _____

You like dogs (perros) _____

You like computer science. _____

¡Intentalo!

Hablar

Yo _____ español

Ellos _____ frances.

Mario _____ italiano.

Nosotras _____ inglés.
(a mi)

Tú _____ portuguesa.

* gustar ****

_____ el café (a mi)

¿ _____ las clases? (a ti)

No _____ el café. (a ti)

No _____ las matemáticas (a

No _____ la física. (a mi)