

p. 82-83

1. [Cracked / Scratched / Torn] jeans are now in fashion. Everyone wears them.
2. Richard bought a pair of sunglasses with blue [lenses / stains / items].
3. The shop assistant agreed to give me a refund for the [broken / ripped / scratched] jacket.
4. I dropped my laptop this morning and now it's [broken / ripped / torn]!
5. I would like a [refund / repair / reuse], because the phone has stopped working and I only bought it a week ago.
6. I tried on all the clothes you bought me, but nothing really suits me. I really [would like a replacement / am totally dissatisfied / appreciate your help] though.
7. This smartphone is very popular and it [comes in / is stained / looks out for] black, white, red or blue.
8. These curtains have a nice [stain / lens / pattern].
9. This road is not [wide / elegant / portable] enough for a truck.
10. You should wear a [windbreaker / torn / thick] today; it's really windy outside!
11. After a few days, I realised my new watch was [refunded / defective / determined] so I took it back.
12. A laptop is a [portable / wide / waterproof] computer.
13. The students were given [all day long / strap / loads of] homework for the following day's lesson.
14. I bought this [shoulder / case / windbreaker] to keep my smartphone safe.

15. A thin jacket will [be practical / come in handy / get caught] for the cool evenings in the woods.

16. Please use both [straps / portables / cases] when you wear your backpack, as using only one is bad for your back.

17. I kept my books [wide / thick / dry] while I was walking in the rain by keeping them in a plastic bag.

18. It's not very [defective / waterproof / practical] to keep the plates you use every day on the top shelf.

19. It was so sunny this morning that I never thought to take my umbrella, so I got [waterproof / caught in the rain / a refund] on my way home.

20. I washed my trousers, but they are [torn / stained / defective] and there's no way to get rid of this black mark.