

p. 96-97

1. The new [gorgeous / generation / motivation] is very familiar with technology.
2. It's [freezing / boiling / starving] today! Let's take the tour of the cave, because it will be cool inside.
3. Mike is giving a [distraction / presentation / motivation] at the meeting today about his research.
4. I didn't enjoy the play. In fact, I found it absolutely [dreadful / forgetful / gorgeous].
5. Pam is [fearless / forgetful / frustrated] today because she can't find her purse.
6. Some people find listening to the radio while working a [distraction / motivation / presentation], but it actually helps me concentrate.
7. Lily looked [gorgeous / freezing / switched off] at the party.
8. After work Jason always goes to the gym for a [workout / work out / dreadful] on the exercise machines.
9. Alan was [astonished / scientific / distracted] to find the missing dog in his bedroom.
10. I'll make a small chicken sandwich because I'm [boiling / freezing / starving]. Would you like one?
11. If you look at the photo on this [presentation / slide / attraction], you will see what is happening to the rainforests in Brazil.
12. Of course, when you've got a flat tyre far away from any town, that's when your phone [fails / astonishes / dreads] you by not turning on.

13. My teacher is very [miserable / understanding / dreadful] when I told him that my project wasn't ready and he allowed me to give it in the next day.

14. My computer [crashed / was delighted / was monitored] just as I was about to send an important email.

15. Alice is [miserable / furious / wireless] because she lives away from her family and friends.

16. My parents were [miserable / furious / wireless] when I told them I had crashed the car.

17. I know you're under pressure and things aren't happening as you planned, but you must try to [snap out of it / know it by heart / go halfway through] and finish the job.

18. Susan was absolutely [starving / dreadful / delighted] to be invited to the wedding.

19. I'm sorry I haven't returned your jacket yet. I've been a bit [delighted / forgetful / fearless] lately.

20. There is [space / slide / distraction] in here for one more chair.