The patient's seems abnormally big and it looks like a huge bag with too books in it. I didn't see much hair on his head but there was a lot of covering a large part of his face. I could not really see his eyes, partly by the skin. Out of his mouth came an enormous red tooth. He not possibly smile or laugh. There were big bags of skin on his back. His right arm was enormous and the hand looked like a foot, but surprisingly the left hand was as as a woman's hand. When he tried to move, I noticed that he could not walk very well because he had a bad too. In the room, the smell was very unpleasant because the poor man was treated an animal and not to wash normally.
