

Write the name of these definitions.

<input type="text"/>	It is the reproductive organ of the plant.
<input type="text"/>	It is the part of the plant that captures the sunlight and performs the photosynthesis.
<input type="text"/>	It is the part of the plant that gives support and structure.
<input type="text"/>	It is the part of the plant that takes water and minerals from the soil.

According to the way they reproduce, How would you classify these plants?

Write the name of these definitions:

_____ occurs when the seed grows into a new plant.

_____ occurs when pollen joins an ovule in the pistil.

_____ is caused by Insects, birds, wind and water. 4.

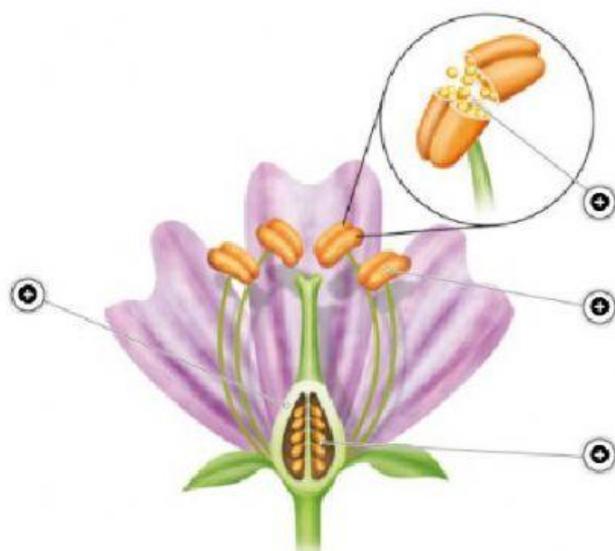

Complete the text about plants:

Some plants have flowers , they reproduce with .

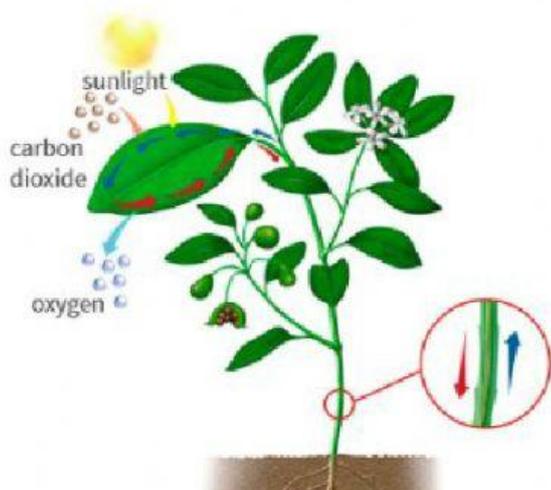

Other plants do not have flowers, such as ferns , which reproduce with .

The wind, birds or water can cause .

Write the name of these flower parts:

Explain the process which is shown in the picture:

Plants absorb water and mineral from the soil. This mixture is called  sap. The sap travels up the  through tubes called  vessels.

Plants make food in their  by mixing xylem sap with carbon

What is the name of this process? _____