

Interesting Faces

Read the text and then fill in the correct word below.

Let's look at some interesting faces!

A Artist Salvador Dali had a long face and he liked to open his eyes wide. His nose was a bit long as was his dark hair. The most interesting thing about Salvador was his long moustache that he combed into different shapes.

B Actor Vincent Price also had an interesting face. He had a long face and nose. He had a moustache and a beard. He had dark wavy hair. Do you remember his voice from the song "Thriller"?

C Although he wasn't an actor, director Alfred Hitchcock used his face effectively. He was overweight and he had thick lips. He was mostly bald with very little hair. His eyes were intense when he looked at you. He was clean-shaven - no beard, no moustache. Look in the mirror at your own interesting face!
