

COMPRESIÓN ESCRITA- INGLÉS. NIVEL AVANZADO-CONVOCATORIA ORDINARIA
HOJA DE RESPUESTAS PARA EL ALUMNO

STUDENT'S NAME: _____

TASK 1 (5 x 0.6 marks = 3 marks)

Read the following texts about environmental issues and match them to their corresponding heading on the answer sheet. Write the corresponding numbers (1-5) in the boxes provided. There are three headings that you will not need. Do not mark more than five sentences. Text 0 is given as an example.

MARK

--

HEADING		TEXT NUMBER
A	Cleaner power stations may not be able to supply all the country's needs.	0	✓
B	An insistence on considering the importance of environmental changes.
C	Contribution to Climate Deal is in serious danger.
D	Expecting a 'not in favour, not against' vote.
E	Green changes that haven't become true.
F	Promises to stop worsening Global Warming.
G	Putting off the vote on the emissions plan.
H	The Government considers gas emissions more important than other health issues.
I	The Government is working on reducing gas emissions.

STUDENT'S NAME: _____

TASK 2 (5 x 0.6 marks = 3 marks)

Read the following text and choose the FIVE sentences which are correct according to what you read. Mark the corresponding box. Do not mark more than five sentences. Sentence 0 is given as an example.

MARK

--

Iraqi interpreters left without help because of rigid guidelines

0	Broadly speaking, the Government's policy for helping the British in Iraq has been very useful.	X	✓
A	The British scheme has shown that all interpreters have benefited from this new policy.
B	The violence against interpreters helping the British started in 2005.
C	Mark Brockway states that the Government should make its assistance policy less severe.
D	The British Government did not propose the scheme on its own initiative.
E	Now that the conditions are not so strict, many people will benefit from the assistance policy.
F	The majority of the Iraqis who work for the British are keen on beginning new lives in Britain.
G	Patrick Mercer, MP, supports the scheme as it is, since it represents a powerful measure against terrorism.
H	Mr Mercer, declared that British soldiers should not be reckoned as more necessary than any interpreter.
I	The Locally Engaged Staff Assistance Scheme is not likely to be changed.
J	Although assistance has been largely denied, some cases are still under consideration.

STUDENT'S NAME: _____

TASK 3 (5 x 0.8 marks = 4 marks)

According to the text, for each question write the correct answer (a, b or c) in the white boxes provided. Item 0 is given as an example. Only one answer is possible.

MARK

--

The city that looks and smells like a landfill site

QUESTIONS

0.- The refuse collector's strike has

- a. allowed rats and other kinds of animals to feed themselves freely.
- b. left only Headingley covered in rubbish.
- c. made the number of rodents increase.

A	✓
---	---

1.- The council wants all of its workers to

- a. accept a more equitable pay scale between the sexes.
- b. allow women to earn more than men.
- c. work longer for less salary.

--	--

2.- The term "all-out strike"

- a. belongs to a distant past.
- b. is familiar to students in Headingley.
- c. is a new way of social action against unpleasant political measures.

--	--

3.- Jess Johnson

- a. admits that students are partially responsible for the situation.
- b. is horrified by the state of the street around where she lives.
- c. lives with five other students.

--	--

4.- Students from Headingley

- a. are responsible for most of the rubbish left in the streets.
- b. have taken no action against the state of their neighbourhood.
- c. moan about the behaviour of other people.

--	--

5.- Some areas of Leeds

- a. are being discriminated against due to the type of resident.
- b. have sorted the problem with private teams of refuse workers.
- c. struggle to keep the streets clean because they have students living in the area.

--	--