SUMMER JOBS

If you want a job this summer, it isn't hard to find one. There are plenty of employers willing to pay a decent salary to young people who are not afraid of hard day's work.

For example, Star Summer Camps, based in the South-West of England, are looking for Activity Instructors to work with children aged 5-15. The money is not bad – from £ 220 to £ 260 per week. It's ideal for outgoing, reliable people who enjoy working with children. Candidates with musical or sports ability are preferred, but all the applications are welcome.

2.

Can you see yourself as Mary Poppins? Want to work as a nanny? Well, there is a vacancy for a child carer with a prestigious family in the Channel Islands from May to September. The work involves looking after three pre-school children. Suitable qualifications, experience and good references are essential. It pays £ 180 per week plus board and travel expenses.

3.

Have you ever given money to a charity? Of course, you have. Well, Time 2 Give need highly motivated, energetic, professional people to raise money for good causes. There are both permanent and short-term vacancies available all over the country, and good workers can earn over £ 400 a week! After paid training period, you would be responsible for working in a team to persuade people to give charities.

If you prefer physical work, Gowrite Farms in the North-East of Scotland require hard- working fruit pickers for the summer. They provide medical insurance, holiday pay and accommodation and the wages range from £ 5 to £ 8 per hour.

5.

Edinburg has thousands of visitors every summer, and Travotel Hotels are offering £ 535 per month plus full board for a Hotel Reception Assistant. It's a temporary summer contract, ideal for a student. The duties include answering the phone, helping customers, assisting the senior receptionist and any other odd jobs. The hotel is open 24 hours, so you may be asked to work shifts, and overtime is also available.

6.

How about working in a restaurant? Eatwell Restaurants are recruiting part-time staff to serve and clear tables in its central London branches. Applicants must be at least 18 years of age and a neat and tidy appearance is essential. The posts are all in Central London and the pay is £ 7.25 per hour.
