

People are less likely to become diabetic.

Less medical care for diabetes is needed.

Healthcare professionals encourage a low-sugar diet.

People eat less sugary foods.

