

My favorite soccer team

Yesterday my brother and I went to see a football game. We watched our two favorite teams, America, and Pumas. It was the second week of the season and the day was much colder than the week before. We arrived at the stadium at 11:30 am, which is a little earlier than usual. We were excited because I love the America team soccer and he loves the Pumas team soccer.

The seats were good, but I wanted something closer to the field. However, we sat and enjoyed the game. Well, we enjoyed it until we started arguing. My brother and I both think our team is better than the other team. He always says to me that the Pumas team are faster, stronger, and smarter than America team. His favorite goalkeeper is Miguel Fraga he says he is better than Oscar Jiménez. And I say that Oscar Jiménez is sportier than Miguel

I never agree. On this day, he was wrong. The America team played a lot better than the pumas. The America team looked stronger and tougher than the Pumas team. The America team won by 5 points. One thing I didn't like was that the food and drinks were much more expensive than other places and tasted much worse. I was surprised that a hot dog cost $50, which is more expensive than the $30 I pay outside the Azteca stadium. Also, the hot dog was smaller than normal hot dogs. So, I was a little sad about my meal, but I planned to get something tastier after the game. So, we decided to celebrate at home, and we bought some cemitas outside the stadium and they were tastier than the hotdogs, also they were cheaper than the hotdogs.

Overall, it was a great day. I love going to the game with my brother. Even though we argue, I wouldn't want to watch the game with anyone else!
