

Hello, tourist. You've just landed on Planet Earth.

In other words, you are in the midst of the eternal fight between good and evil.

Your mission is no less than saving this world.

First of all, you have to differentiate between good and evil personality traits.

Needless to say, they are in total chaos at the moment.

Could you please drag and drop the words to their places?

Make sure to put everything next to its opposite, or it won't be easy to move on...

I hope the sides are clear by now based on the picture.

And I hope even more that you are taking the right side. Or we are lost forever...
