A LIFE IN PHOTOS

On 23 January 1996, Munish Bansal took a photo of his new baby daughter Suman.

Every day after that, Munish took another photo of his daughter, sometimes in the morning, sometimes in the afternoon.

Sometimes Suman was tired or sad and she didn't want to look at the camera, but she was usually happy.

From one day to the next Suman didn't change a lot, but every year she grew or changed a little.

On her eighteenth birthday, 6,575 days after she was born, Munish took a photo of his daughter as usual. But in this photo, she was an adult.

Munish collected all of the 6,575 photos, made one big picture from them, and gave it to her as a present.

1. Munish didn't take photos when Suman was sad.
2. Munish took a photo of his daughter at a different time every day.
3. Suman is quite different in the photos from one day to the next.
4. Suman was an adult when she received the present.
5. Munish collect all 6575 photos to make a big picture.
