

THE GAME OF GO

combine (v)	→	lose (v)	→
allocate (v)	→	place (v)	→
behave (v)	→	possible (v)	→
dominate (v)	→	patient (v)	→

1. The way a player places the board in Go is similar to the way resource is allocated in business.

→ Board.....
.....

2. You need to be patient. You also need to behave calmly. And you need to cleverly combine these two if you want to dominate over the other player's pieces in a game of Go.

→ Ais necessary for the
.....

MEMORIES THAT DEFINE SELF

realize (v)	→	achieve (v)	→
form (v)	→	different (adj)	→
disappoint (v)	→	child (n)	→
sorry (adj)	→	happy (adj)	→
grow (v)	→

3. A person begins to realize his/her self-identity when he/she is a child.

→begins in.....

4. Personality is formed as a result of moments when a person is greatly sorry, tremendously disappointed, and extremely happy.

→ Personalityresults from
.....

5. What she achieved when she was a child reflected itself when she grew up.

→ Herreflected itself in

NATIONALISM AND SPORT

Patriotic (adj)	→	Divide (v)	→
Unify (v)	→	Establish (v)	→
Recognize (v)	→	Define (v)	→
Proud (adj)	→	Host (v)	→
Reinforce (v)	→

6. A nation can define itself by establishing state symbols such as a flag or an anthem.
 → National achieved with the.....

7. South Korea hosted the 1988 Olympic Games to reinforce the truth that the territory between South and North Korea had been divided. [territory (n) → territorial (adj)]
 → South Korea.....aimed at the

8. Athletics can unify a country and make the people more patriotic, and proud of the nation.
 → Athletics can promoteand foster

C

COMPARATIVE ADVANTAGE THEORY

recognize (v)	→	present (v)	→
exploit (v)	→	know (v)	→
grow (v)	→	able (adj)	→
require (v)	→

9. If a nation can recognize and exploit its comparative advantages, it can grow fast.
 → Fast.....of a nation can result from the

10. The job requires candidates to know film production well, to be able to act, and to present well in front of the camera. And I think it is too demanding.
 → Thefor good,
, and is too demanding.

WTO

Threaten (v)	→	Enact (v)	→
Motivate (v)	→	Harm (v)	→

11. When retaliatory sanctions are threatened, they may motivate struggling countries to try. However, when retaliatory sanctions are enacted, they actually harm the countries economically.
 → Theof retaliatory sanctions may result in
 However, the of retaliatory sanctions causes

MMR

Difficult (adj) →

Criticize (v) →

Vaccinate (v) →

Related (adj) →

12. It is difficult to vaccinate some children against MMR because their parents criticize MMR vaccines to be related to autism.

→ Theresults from some parent's

.....

POLIOVIRUS

Examine (v) →

Progress (v) →

Eradicate (v) →

Difficult (adj) →

13. When the effort to eradicate polio is examined, it reveals that health officials have progressed enormously, although it is still difficult for them in violent, and poor regions.

→ Anreveals

.....despite theregions.

DNA VACCINE

Advance (v) →

Eradicate (v) →

14. Technology is advancing, so currently incurable illness will be eradicated in not-so-far future.

→ Technologicalwill lead to the

.....