

Use am, is, are

Ann and James on holiday. They in Europe. The weather bad, but the holiday really good. The food OK. The building in the photograph over 150 years old. It the home of kings and queens. It in the centre of the city. 'It a fantastic building,' says Ann.

Carla and Pedro on holiday. They in Africa. The weather very good, and the holiday great. 'The people really nice,' says Carla, 'but the heat awful.' The buildings in the photograph in a desert near a town. They 5,000 years old. They the homes of dead kings and queens.