

THE BIOMES

1. Plot and link the description with the images in a correct way vegetation typical of cold continental climate zones, composed of large coniferous forests and shrubs.

flat and grassy land, larger than the meadow.

area of land receiving less than 25 centimeters of rainfall per year.

They are located in coastal regions, between terrestrial and aquatic areas.

2.a. The rainforest is hot and dry
true
false

b. The tropical rainforest is the least discovered biome

true

false

c. tropical rainforests are home to the majority of the world's plant and animal species.

true

false

d. artificial biomes are those found in zoos and are made of fabric and plastic.

true

false

3.What is the correct definition of a biome?

a. biome is the set of ecosystems characteristic of a given zone

b. the biome is the complex system of relationships that exists between communities of living organisms and the environment they inhabit

c. the biome is the assemblage of all animal species, usually with reference to a particular place, climate, type, environment or geological period.

4. choose which ecosystem goes with these animals

