

Present Perfect vs. Present Perfect Progressive

Use the Present Perfect (have/has + past participle) to talk about

- a finished past action
- an action that started in the past, continued in to the present, and may continue into the future
- with stative (non-action) verbs like be, like, know, want, need, understand, etc.
- how much or how many

Use the Present Perfect Progressive (have/has + been + -ing)

- to talk about an action that started in the past, continued into the present, and will likely continue into the future
- to focus on the action itself rather than the completion of the action
- to talk about situations that are unusual or not permanent
