Pub Quizzes

A pub quiz is a general knowledge quiz held in a pub or bar. They started in the UK in the 1970s, and there are now more than 22,000 weekly quizzes in pubs all over the country. Friends form teams, usually of about five or six people, and they decide on a name for their team. The person who asks the questions is called the 'quizmaster', and the teams write their answers on a piece of paper. You can't use your phone to look for the answers! In some pubs, teams pay to be in the quiz – from about 50p to £5 per person – and the winning team gets the money. But a lot of pub quizzes are free because pubs want people to come on nights which aren't usually busy, like Mondays and Tuesdays.
