

There or it/they

1 Look at these sentences:

There is a big market near the river; it is very good for fruit and meat.

There are two buses on Sunday; they both go to the station.

We use there is/are when we talk about something for the first time in a conversation, and when we say where it is or when it is. We do not use there to talk about the same thing again; we use singular it (here meaning 'the big market') or plural they (here meaning 'the two buses'). Here are some more examples:

There are two schools here; they are both new.

There's a good programme on Sunday; it gives all the sports news.

2 We use there with different forms of be:

There weren't any CDs thirty years ago.

A: Have there been any problems this year?

B: Yes, there have.

There used to be a park here. (= There was a park here but it isn't here now.)

There may be some eggs in the fridge. (= It is possible that there are some eggs ...)

3 We also use there is/are etc. to talk about the number of people or things in a place. Look at these questions and answers:

A: How many people were there at your party?

B: There were about twelve.
(NOT ~~We were about twelve.~~)

A: Are there many restaurants here?

B: Yes, there must be ten or more.
(NOT ~~They must be ten.~~)

We can use of us, of them, etc. after the number:

There were about twelve of us.

4 For the weather, we use it with a verb or adjective, but there with a noun:

it + verb: It rained/snowed a lot last winter.

it + adjective: It was foggy/sunny/windy/cloudy.

there + noun: There was a lot of fog/cloud.

5 Notice these examples with it takes:

It takes seven years to become a doctor.

A: How long does it take to make bread?

B: It takes several hours (to make bread).

These sentences describe the time that is necessary to do something.

Practice

A Put in there is, there are, it is or they are.

► There are two cinemas in our town; they are both near my flat.

1 one train on Sundays; an express train.

2 two national holidays this month, and both on a Friday.

3 several trees in our garden, but not very tall.

4 a big lake in the park; very deep.

B Write answers to the questions using there were ... of and the words in brackets ().

► A: How many people were there at your party?

B: (twenty/us) There were twenty of us.

1 A: How many of you were there in the car?

B: (five/us)

2 A: How many sailors were there in the boat?

B: (six/them)

3 A: How many people were there at the supper?

B: (twelve/us)

C Rewrite the sentences using the words in brackets () and it or there.
