Science

Skill Reminder When you summarize, you tell what something is about. You should always use your own words to write a summary.

- Read each paragraph. Then write a summary.

Some birds are hunters. That means they prey, or feed, on smaller animals, insects, and plants. These birds include hawks, eagles, and falcons. The things that make each of these birds good hunters are very strong feet, an upper beak with a hook, and really good eyesight.

1. Summary: _____

Write a paraphrase of the story about the birds.

Write a paraphrase of the story about the eagle.

The eagle is one of the largest birds in the world. Eagles fly high in the sky. Falcons are very powerful fliers, and they dive down from great heights to catch their prey. Hawks also swoop down and grab an animal with the claws on their feet.

4. Summary: _____
