Davy Jones' theme

When Davy Jones opens the locket that his true love gave him, he starts to become sad. After he remembers he does not have a heart he becomes angry and distressed. The organ has mainly been used by Davy Jones whenever he is in great anger or sadness. One instance of Jones using the pipe organ was after his bargain with Captain Jack Sparrow, who told him about Will Turner being in love with "a girl" and due to be married. Because this reminded him about his own love, Davy Jones unleashed his fury and anguish over the loss of his beloved, the sea goddess, Calypso, by playing the coral-encrusted pipe organ aboard his ghost ship.
