B – Reading PracticeDINNER AT ALEJANDRO'S

A. Today Tommy had dinner with Alejandro's family. They came from Argentina. They spoke Spanish and cooked foods from different countries.

The boys practiced soccer in the backyard before dinner. Tommy was worried about eating strange foods. He thought about the tasty roast beef and mashed potatoes his mom made. He thought about her spaghetti and meatballs, too. What would he do if he didn't like the food? He did not want to make his friend's family sad.

"Tommy can sit next to me," Alejandro's grandfather said. He knew that Tommy was nervous. He said "I will help you."

1. What does Tommy do before the meal? With whom?

2. How does Tommy feel when he thinks of the foods at dinner? Why?

3. What foods does Tommy's mom often make at home?

4. Why does Alejandro's grandfather want to sit by Tommy?

B. "I'm Alejandro's abuelo, or grandfather. Alejandro calls me abuelo. You can call me abuelo, too." Alejandro's grandfather told Tommy.

"Did you have fun practicing football?"

"It was fun. In Argentina, this game is called football. In the United States, we call it soccer." Alejandro answered.

Tommy was happy to see the salad and a plate of bread on the table. He liked salad and bread.

There was a gigantic bowl of hot yellow rice full of shrimp and other foods. Tommy watched carefully.

"Have you ever eaten this food?" asked abuelo.

"I like rice, abuelo. But this rice looks different," said Tommy.

"This colorful rice dish is called paella. It has shrimp, mussels, a sausage, peas, red peppers, and other vegetables in it."

1. What is the Spanish word for grandfather? _____

2. What is football called in the United States? _____

3. What did Tommy like to eat at home? _____

4. What is the name of the rice dish? What color is it? What does it have?

C. "I like both shrimp and vegetables," Tommy said. "I like sausage, too."

"What will you have, Tommy? Watch me and listen," Abuelo said.

"I will have some paella, please. Now I will have some salad, please. I'll have a piece of bread, and a little of that." Abuelo waved his hand over the bread and another dish.

1. What did Abuelo have?

2. How did he use his hand to choose the food?

D. Tommy watched and saw that Abuelo did not point at the food. He moved his whole hand over the food he wanted.

"And now what would you like, Tommy?"

"I will try a little paella, and some salad. And a piece of bread."

When everyone's plate was ready, Tommy tried a little of everything. All of it was tasty, but the paella was delicious.

"Thank you, abuelo," Tommy said. "it's fun to try new things and learn new words."
