

1- Turn the following sentences into the negative form:

Example: You were in the Chinese restaurant.

You were not in the Chinese restaurant.

a) We were in a small hotel in the English countryside.

b) I was happy.

c) I was with my husband and our two month-old baby daughter.

d) It was the middle of the night.

e) The noise on the windows was terrible.

2- Turn the following sentences into the interrogative form:

Example: You were in the Chinese restaurant.

Were you in the Chinese restaurant?

a) He was terrified.

b) There was water on the floor.

c) We were tired.

d) We were there with six other people for several hours.

e) She was afraid for her baby.