attention back best due earn end last need right stress

Adverts with celebrities in are a good idea unless they do something wrong of course and receive lots of negative (18) .....Some famous sports stars, for example, (19) ..... up with millions of dollars for appearing for just a few seconds in these adverts. However, this then places them under a lot of (20) ..... to perform well in their sports or they may lose this well-paid work.

Some celebrities, and not just sports stars, have also lost this extra way of making money (21) ..... to their behaviour in daily life. The (22) ..... thing a celebrity needs is to appear on the front page of a newspaper doing something they shouldn't be doing! If this happens, the company that uses them in their advertising turn their (23) ..... on the celebrity and they soon lose public support too. After all, just because you're famous, it doesn't mean you have you the (24) ..... to behave in any way you wish!

Task 1B: Complete the text with these words. There are three extra words you do not need to use.

back best due have thing need negative right under up

Celebrities who appear in adverts often end (18) ..... with millions of dollars for appearing for just a few seconds. But these celebrities are also (19) ..... a lot of stress to behave well in public at all times. Any (20) ..... attention from the media may mean they lose this well-paid work.

The last (21) ..... a celebrity needs is to appear on the front page of a newspaper doing something they shouldn't be doing! A few well-known celebrities have lost this extra way of making money (22) ..... to their behaviour in daily life. After all, just being famous doesn't mean you (23) ..... the right to behave in any way you wish! The company that uses the celebrity in their advertising might turn their (24) ..... on them and they soon lose public support as well.

Task 2A: Read the article and decide which answer (A, B, C or D) best fits each gap.

The job of a movie critic is to (25) ..... all new movies that come out, which means giving his or her opinions about the movie. This might include commenting on whether the story can (26) ..... people or not, saying how good the (27) ..... that the actors wear are, and suggesting what kind of (28) ..... might enjoy seeing the movie.

To do this well, the movie critic doesn't need to (29) ..... the stars of the movie. They need to comment on how well the actors (30) ..... in the movie and how interesting the characters they play are. Many movie actors start their careers working on (31) ..... in theatres. But acting in a movie is very different to appearing in a (32) ..... and not all actors are good at doing both.
