

Watch the video Hiring Trends and Priorities for Job Seekers and fill in the gaps.

From 0:20 to 1:24

- What are the top three salary trends to know for 2023?
- In my 23 years in recruiting I have never seen an employment market like the one that we're in today. _____ and foremost on everyone's mind is salary and perks. Secondly employers have to be prepared to talk about money not just when they're hiring but with their _____ employees and then last but not _____ money is not making up for a poor employee experience.
- _____ inflation and economic uncertainty impacting salaries?
- As you can imagine inflation is _____ everything and compensation was certainly if important last year but now as families go to the grocery _____ things are just more expensive. Compensation is even more important than it's _____ been because of the rise of goods.

From 2:05 to 4:00

- We know money's not everything so what do workers want from their employer beyond that fair and competitive pay?
- As you can imagine people really, really want either a remote position or a hybrid position so that's first and _____.
Next, they want _____ and perks some of those benefits they want to know that the company cares about their well-being and their _____.
Then they certainly want to know that their company is investing in them so either upskilling them or helping _____ growth and career opportunities.
- And how _____ job seekers successfully _____ a raise or better job offer? You know that can be scary for some, how do we go about that?
- Yeah. Well first you've got to ask yourself "Am I fulfilled in my current role?" And if the answer is "yes" then you want to think about...first you've got to ask for the raise. If you don't _____ you don't get.
Secondly do your _____. There's a lot of websites out there including ours at roberthalf.com where you can do research about _____.
Then you want to request a meeting with your manager. It's a really good idea to ask your manager, let your manager _____ on the front end that you want to talk about your compensation. Sit down, have the meeting, be _____ about what you're asking for.
And then if for some reason you don't get all that you want or you don't get a raise feel _____ asking your manager what you need to do to get that raise and can you have a follow-up _____ to review it in a short period of time.

Find the words from the text that match these definitions.

1. _____ - the money received by an employee from an employer as a salary or wages.
2. To _____ oneself - gain happiness or satisfaction by fully developing one's abilities or character
3. _____ - an increase in salary.
4. _____ an advantage or benefit following from a job or situation.
5. _____ - job prospects