

Presentation

Defining relative clauses

Use defining relative clauses to say exactly which person, thing, place or time we are talking about.

The house which is in the photo was the home of William Shakespeare.

He was the playwright who wrote Rome and Juliet.

The town where he lived is called Stratford Upon Avon

Relative pronouns and relative adverbs

Use which for things, who for people and that for things and people.

Use whose for possessions, where for place and when for time.

Omitting the relative pronoun (which, who, that)

Subject of the relative clause

You always have to use the relative pronoun which, who or that when it is the subject of the defining relative clause (i.e. when it is followed by the verb).

Stratford-upon-Avon is famous because of the playwright who lived there.

(don't say ~~because of the playwright lived there.~~)

Object of the defining relative clause

You don't have to use a relative pronoun (who, which, that) when it is the object of the relative clause (i.e. when it is followed by a noun or pronoun).

This is one of the three pictures which we have of Shakespeare.

or This is one of the three pictures we have of Shakespeare.

Exercises

1 Combine the sentences using the words in brackets.

1 Picasso was an artist. He was able to paint in many different styles. (who)

Picasso was an artist who was able to paint in many different styles.

2 This is the house. My grandfather was born here. (where)

3 4th April is the date. People in the USA remember Martin Luther King. (when)

4 Elvis lived in a house. It was called Graceland. (that)

5 Midnight on 31st December is a special time. Many people let off fireworks. (when)

6 The card is from a friend. She lives in Italy. (who)

7 This is an art gallery. You can see lots of famous paintings. (where)

8 This is a country. It has four national languages. (which)

2 Cross out the relative pronoun where possible.

1 This is the school uniform ~~which~~ I wore as a child.

2 That's the same man ~~who~~ we talked to earlier.

3 She's the actress ~~that~~ was in that other film with Hugh Jackman.

4 Over there is the factory ~~which~~ is going to close down.

5 This tree is the first of many ~~which~~ we hope to plant around the town.

6 Aren't you the student ~~who~~ asked to change classes?

3 Add the missing relative pronoun (who, which, whose, where) to the sentences where necessary.

1 It isn't a book I've read. ✓

2 It isn't a book ^{which} interests me.

3 My grandfather is one of those people ~~never~~ seems to look older.

4 She's a TV presenter I can't stand watching!

5 Gone with the Wind is a film ~~lasts~~ for over four hours.

6 He's the man ~~bag~~ we found.

7 That's a nightclub ~~lots of~~ students like to go to on a Friday night.

8 The piano is an instrument I'd like to be able to play.