

Defining Relative Clauses

1. Change two sentences into one using prepositions which, who, that, where:

1. This is Scrooge. He is the richest duck in the world.

4. This is a secret room. Kids can find many interesting things here.

2. This is a magical dragon. He eats only gold.

5. This is 10 cents. He has to find it.

3. This is Donald's cousin. He is the luckiest duck in the world.

6. This is an office. The kids want to work here.

7. These are treasures. Kids are very happy to find them.

10. This is Glomgold. He is an enemy of Scrooge.

8. This is Scrooge. He is very happy on his birthday.

11. This is a Jenga game. Scrooge likes to play it.

9. This is an island. Kids want to find a magical spear here.

12. This is a restaurant. Scrooge has dinner with his family here.

