

Identify the reference of each highlighted pronoun and indicate whether the reference is either anaphoric or cataphoric.

1. The apocalyptic game between the superpowers is being played. Its rule is that either's victory means the end of both.
2. The apocalyptic game between the superpowers is being played. Its rule is that either's victory means the end of both.
3. Cicero had a clear philosophy on human dignity. He said that part of our obligations to ourselves and to others is due to our being human, and for him that meant being rational.
4. Since it was regarded in terms of bearing on the appropriate behavior, for a big part of the history of Christianity, human dignity was conceived in terms of sinfulness, weakness, and misery.