

Lesson 1: Adjectives and prepositions

Grammar explanation

Some adjectives go with certain prepositions. There are no grammatical rules for which preposition is used with which adjective, so it's a good idea to try to learn them together. To help you do this, write new vocabulary in your notebook in a sentence or phrase.

With at

We use at with adjectives like good/bad/amazing/brilliant/terrible, etc. to talk about skills and abilities.

He's really good at English.

With about

We often use about with adjectives of feelings like angry/excited/happy/nervous/sad/stressed/worried, etc. to explain what is causing that feeling.

I'm angry about the decision.

With of

However, sometimes we use of with feelings.

She was afraid of telling her mum.

With to

We can use to to show the connection between people or things.

He's married to the director.

With for

Exercise is good for you.

With in

She's interested in the project.
